

MIRAL STANSFIELD TURNER

4 April 1979

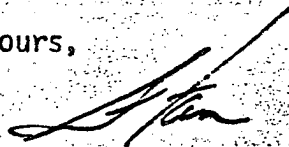

Dear Pat,

How nice to have a note from you when we arrived in Monterey. My apologies for not finding time to get in touch. It was a whirlwind overnight visit with meetings, speeches or receptions all Friday afternoon and a dinner party that evening with some relatives who live in Pebble Beach, as well as our son and his family. Perhaps next time things won't be so rushed.

Do you remember [redacted] Friday morning I gave a speech at breakfast in Los Angeles to the Greater Los Angeles Press Club. As I walked up to the door, this man was photographing me right and left. He then presented himself as [redacted] and handed me some pictures of myself in high school in 1938! What a small world.

Hope my next visit won't be so rushed and we can say hello. In the meantime, many thanks.

Yours,

[redacted]
